PEOPLE OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

WORLD WAR VETERANS JOIN
WITH G. A. R.

School Auditorium Packed to Hear
Patriotic Program.

Memorial Day, which is annually observed to honor the memory of departed veterans of the Civil and Spanish wars, was largely broadened out this year by the addition of those who had given up their lives in the great World war. It is a sacred day and each year the solemnness of the occasion is more fully brot to the minds and understanding of the people.

Memorial services were observed in the local churches with appropriate sermons and music. The day was observed the following day.

At 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon the surviving members of the G. A. R.; veterans of the World war and the members of the Ladies' auxiliary orders, met at G. A. R. hall and headed by the Grayling band, with a number of small children carrying flowers and flags in line, marched to the river bridge on Cedar street where the members of the Women's Relief corps held exercises in honor of the sailors and others who had met death and were buried at sea. Flowers were strewn in the waters in memory of the lives they had given for their flag and their country.

The procession then went to the School auditorium where a brief program was rendered. It was opened with prayer by Rev. Doty. Lieut. Arthur C. McIntyre, commander of Grayling Post of the American Legion, conducted a brief exercise by the members appropriate to the occasion, ending with a most solemn and impressive salutation to the dead.

A very pretty flag drill was given by six girls and six boys of the third grade. This was interspersed with songs, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and "There is No Flag in Any Land Like Our Own Red, White and Blue." The little ones were given a very deserving applause.

A young ladies' quartette, composed of Misses Parr, Campbell, Rogers and Austin, rendered a very pleasing song.

A folk dance and song, "Coming Thru the Rye" was given by eight young boys and girls. This too was very pretty and much enjoyed.

Mr. Rasmus Hanson, one of the speakers on the program, was out of the city and did not get back as he had planned. Also Oscar Palmer, while he was able to be present, was unable to speak because of a loss of voice. This was disappointing as both men always have some good things to say whenever called to address an audience.

Mr. Wilson of the local Post, a veteran of the World war made a few brief remarks, denoting his appreciation of the day and the participation that the members of the Legion are able to have in it.

Rev. F. Walters offered a few words in appreciation of the day and told of the inspiration that the veterans of the Civil war had been thru out the late war and were at the present time, and of the high esteem in which they and the younger veterans are held. He closed with benediction.

The services of the day were concluded at the cemeteries where the graves of the dead soldiers and sailors were decorated with flowers and wreaths. Memorial exercises were held at the Mound by members of the American Legion.

There were many veteran visitors present for the day. The ranks of the G. A. R. veterans were very slim. Those in attendance were Dr. Oscar Palmer, A. C. Wilcox and Adelbert Taylor of this city; Wellington Batterson of Maple Forest and Daniel Hitchcock of Lewiston. Since the last Decoration day death had claimed Comrades Wm. S. Chalker and Lewis E. Parker both of this city. Their absence was keenly felt, especially by those of the community who for so many years past had annually watched them as they participated in the Memorial day exercises.

After the day's doings the W. R. C. ladies served a delicious supper to the veterans of the Civil war and their wives and also the veterans of the World war. This society has did this for many years past.

JUNIORS BANQUET THE SENIORS

A ROYAL FEAST AND FELLOWSHIP SPIRIT.

"A Royal Banquet! Aye Sir; Royal Feast and Fellowship."

The above inspiring lines preceded the good things to eat on the menu offered by the members of the Junior class of 1920 to the seniors of 1920 in a reception tendered them at the school house Friday evening of last week.

It was a royal feast, indeed, and good fellowship prevailed everywhere—the air was permeated with the most delightful atmosphere. The menu contained the following good things:

Pickles
Deviled Eggs
Meat Loaf
Escalloped Potatoes
Spring Salad
Rolls
Ice Cream
Cake

Coffee

The banquet was served in the basement hall. One long table was set with snow white linen, pretty dishes and silver, and adorned with vases of spring flowers, and lighted with handsome electric table lamps.

Program.

Prof. Otterbein, as toastmaster, began the program of speaking with a few chosen remarks, proclaiming the commencement functions as the most enjoyable and happy times of the whole year. He made pleasing announcements of the speakers as they were to appear, weaving in witty stories about each of them.

Doris McLeod of the class of 1921 welcomed the guests with a most hearty greeting in words that at once made all feel free and easy. She offered quotations from noted authors that added dignity and interest to her remarks.

The response was given by Norma Johnson of the class of 1920. She nicely complimented the Juniors on their banquet and assured them of the appreciation of the members of her class. Her words were warm and cheery and very pleasing and the speaker did full credit to the class she was honored to represent.

Mr. Harold Fox, teacher of science, spoke on "What is worth while." Success. With his characteristic earnestness he told what he considered the principal characteristics necessary to success—honesty, industry, good character and friendliness. He quoted words from some of our big Americans, captains of industry and others, nicely substantiating the things he had said.

The outlook was the subject of a talk by Miss Wells, principal of the school. Her ideas were well founded in saying that the present was a good indication of the future of our boys and girls. The thoroughness, integrity, character, resourcefulness and reliability of today were the standards upon which would be erected their future life and habits. Her remarks were strong and convincing and found a most sympathetic approval.

Marius Hanson, president of the Board of education, had as his subject "The High School." He stated that the time afforded him in preparing his remarks was too brief to allow him to commit to memory his speech, therefore he read it. As, he said, his experience in high schools had been limited and he had more knowledge about saw mills he had drawn up his remarks along the lines of making finished lumber out of rough logs, just as the schools make finished men and women out of young boys and girls. His paper was original and novel, and thru the courtesy of Mr. Hanson we are privileged to print it in full. It reads as follows:

The subject "High School" assigned to me is one that I hardly feel qualified to handle, as my experience with High Schools is very limited, not having been in one while in session in over thirty-five years. I attended high school only one year, and did not graduate, because I was obliged to go to work at the age of sixteen. It has been one of my regrets that I could not graduate for I have been very much handicapped, owing to lack of some kinds of knowledge. My advice to every young person is to make every effort to at least graduate from a high school.

I am going to handle my subject in perhaps a rather original manner and trust my remarks may give you a few new thoughts.

In order to bring out the advantages gained by a high school education, I am going to compare it to a saw mill as I know more about a saw mill than I do a high school, but the idea I wish to bring out applies to both. Most of you probably know the process of making lumber; the logs are brought into the mill and in turn cut up by a machine called a band saw, then the various pieces are sent to another machine where the rough edges are trimmed off, then to another, where the ends are trimmed to make even lengths, and then sorted into different grades and piled up. From there it is shipped to people who need it, in sizes and shapes for certain purposes in erection of buildings, factories and other useful purposes to help build up the material part of the world.

The lumber in this condition is in the high school stage for it is not yet finished for use in the finer and more expensive structures, and being in the rough is rarely in a place that attracts attention.

When you first came to school, you were like the log, rough, knotty, and of no particular use to the world. The various grades in the school are the machines which you had to pass through in order to take off your rough edges and trim you to the dimension best suited to your ability.

SCHOOL COLUMN

(Edited by X, Y, and Z.)

Not in clamor of the crowded street,
Nor in shouts and louds of the throng,
But in ourselves, are triumphs and defeat.

This is joke week. Next week will be serious in spite of the fact that it is the last week of school.

Emerson: "This dog of mine is some dog, let me tell you! He has a wonderful pedigree."

Eddie: "I suppose you trace him way back to the dog Noah took into the ark?"

Emerson: "Say, this dog's ancestors didn't go into the Ark. They had a bark of their own."

Lawrence Larvie was quite fussed when he reached Frederic and there found that he had exchanged suitcases with a girl. This exchange was not so disastrous, however, for she got a ball suit and he got a ball gown.

Miss Macaulay (explaining the use of rise and raise).—"What do you do when you get up?"
Rex—"Stretch."

Miss Parr—"We artists live in a world of our own, a world totally unlike that in which we here live."
Mildred Bates—"Just what I said when I saw your landscapes."

Thrilling!

Janet got a rather bad scare last Monday night. She was attacked by a very desperate looking robber, in front of the Library. After opening her pocketbook, the man returned it saying, "Take back your purse, Miss. Youse has got more use for a button hook and a powder puff than I have."

Musket—"I came along fine with my car this morning, I must have gone over forty."
Charles G.—"Dogs or chickens?"

The members of the Junior class wish to thank all who helped them with the Senior banquet.

Miss Wells, Miss Loss, Miss Macaulay and Miss Barr spent last week end at the Lake. Miss Macaulay and Miss Wells have a fine coat of sunburn.

The High School gave a picnic at Lake Margrethe for the teachers, who will not return next year. Everyone had lots of fun, as people at picnics always do (or at least pretend to.) There were three or four tugs-of-war. (We won't say who won, as we do so hate to hurt people's feelings—?) After the eats (Oh! it wouldn't be picnic if people didn't eat too much, even to those dignified teachers,) a short but very solemn and impressive program was enjoyed. (Why, say the lake rose two inches; there were so many tears shed.) A small gift was bestowed upon each member of our worthy faculty. Just as the shadows were deepening on that beautiful, placid lake, the ghost of a tragedy lurked around a boat load of teachers, who were totally unaware of Mr. Fox's inexperience with the oars. Suddenly a whale appeared a few feet from the boat. Mr. Fox, paralyzed with fear, lost all control of the boat. But for the courage and presence of mind of Miss Austin, our dearly beloved teachers would

In the operation of the mill a foreman is in charge, in the school the superintendent has charge. In the mill each machine is operated by an expert in that particular part of the operation. In the school the teachers are in charge of the grades or machines, and are expert in the operation of their particular machine.

Lumber in the high school stage is graded as to quality, and each grade has a particular value, based on its soundness, strength and perfection. So you in your high school stage are also graded by your examination marks, showing in which particular branch of learning you are most proficient. The value of lumber is determined by its grade, so your value to the world is determined by your grade. The better your grade, the more earning capacity you will have, as your ability to earn depends solely upon your ability to assume and fill responsible positions of trust and honor.

You should not stop when you reach the High School grade, you should, if possible, pass on to the planning mill of education, the college and university, there to have whatever defects you still have, smoothed off, making of you a much finer and expensive grade of human lumber, and that you may all fill a prominent position in the business, professional and educational world is my earnest wish for you.

The idea I wish to impress upon your minds is this: that as the log is of no value until it has been changed in character and quality to such shapes as will fit into some particular place where it will be of most use, so you are of little value to the world unless you also are changed in character and quality to fill the particular place for which you are best fitted. May there be no culls from our high school.

The Juniors and the teachers assisting them are to be complimented upon the delightful banquet and the pleasing and inspiring program that was presented. About 75 persons were present. During the banquet pleasing music was rendered by Loretta's three piece orchestra of West Branch.

After the program those who desired remained and enjoyed a few hours of dancing in the gymnasium.

have been at the bottom of the lake. We are thankful that some one saved the day (also the teachers). Thus ends the tragic tale. Some of the students found the fishing very good last Wednesday.

Nina Petersen and Vita Fischer visited school last Tuesday.

Exams begin this Friday afternoon.

VEAL CUTLETS AND SOUP.

3 pounds veal shank.
Cook a veal shank in boiling salted water until tender. Remove as much meat as possible from the bone. Cut the pieces to resemble chops.

Take this veal and season well. Roll in crumbs, egg and crumbs again and saute in butter or butter substitute. Garnish with parsley.

For the soup take the remaining portion of the shank and put it into a kettle with 3 cups brown stock and a few peppercorns, salt, celery salt and any other seasoning desired. Add ½ cup each of diced potatoes, turnips, and parsley. Cook for one half hour.

This veal shank provides a soup and cutlets for a family of five.

Rough Roads for Wheels Are Smooth Roads for Passengers

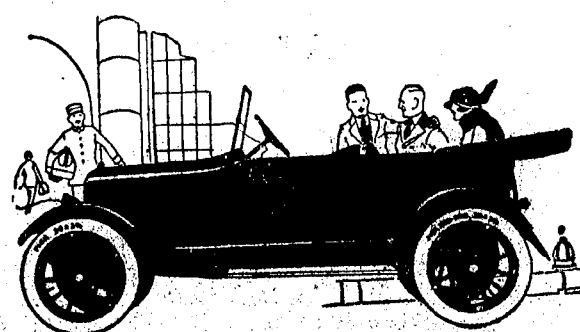

WATCH Overland 4 on rough cobbles or unpaved roads. The wheels follow surface inequalities, but the new Triplex Springs give car and passengers remarkable riding steadiness.

They give 130-inch Spring-base to a car of 100-inch wheelbase.

This makes for the gently buoyant road action of a large, heavy car with the economy in upkeep, fuel and tires, and convenience of handling of a scientifically designed light car.

Auto-Lite starting and lighting, door-opening curtains and dash light give but a hint of the completeness and quality which characterize everything about Overland 4.

BOSTON SUGAR MEN ARE HELD

CHARGED WITH HOLDING PRODUCE FROM MARKET AND RAISING PRICES.

ACTION IS TAKEN BY THE U. S.

Federal Government Alleges Huge Profit Was Made on Sales of Sugar at Wholesale.

Boston—The federal government took action against sugar refiners here for alleged profiteering and hoarding. The Revere Sugar refinery was charged with exacting excessive prices and with holding sugar from the market, and the American Sugar Refining company was charged with selling sugar at excessive prices. The complaints asserted that the companies had made millions of dollars by hoarding and regulating the price.

The government in prosecuting under the Lever act declares that the companies set the price of sugar for all New England except Connecticut. It is claimed the refiners sold to independent companies and acted as brokers, who violated an agreement, reached at a conference in Washington, for regulating distribution of sugar to the retail trade.

The Revere refinery, which grows sugar, according to the complaint, withheld its product from the market to the extent of millions of pounds, creating a scarcity with attendant high prices. It is charged specifically that on April 14, at this port, the Revere refiners withheld 66,000 bags of sugar, and that on May 21 it exacted excessive prices on another lot.

On the latter date, the American company is alleged to have exacted a price of from 15 to 21.9 cents a pound for sugar, which cost the company only 6 to 12 cents a pound.

The quotations in the government's complaint were on sales at wholesale.

Federal agents who investigated the cases asserted that they found evidence of 57,000,000 pounds of sugar which had been bought at prices from 6.5 to 7 cents a pound and sold to wholesalers at a range of 15 to 22 cents a pound. These agents said the Revere refinery has withheld to date 72 per cent of its production.

The amount of sugar which was being held on April 24 was set by the federal investigators at 60,000,000 pounds.

The independent sugar company, however, was charged with obtaining excessive prices in another complaint. It was alleged that they sold for 24.2 cents a pound sugar that was bought for 16 cents a pound.

Probe Is Opened.

New York—An investigation of the sugar market for the purpose of remedying conditions and obtaining an equitable distribution, even if it be at the expense of some of the non-essential industries was under way before Arthur W. Riley, special assistant to Attorney General Palmer. Three representatives of large sugar interests were summoned to appear before Riley in a series of "informal meetings." Mr. Riley declared, "the government intended to stop the reselling of sugar based upon replacement value instead of cost."

Indicted Broker Faces Trial.

Bay City—Luther Ellison, a broker of Jonesboro, Ark., who was indicted in the federal court here a short time ago, on the charge of profiteering in sugar, arrived in the city and gave a bond of $10,000 for his appearance for trial. There is a probability that the jurors for the May term of court will be recalled in June and the Ellison and Cohen cases tried at that time.

POLAND HINTS AT PEACE MOVE

Will Consider Negotiations When Objectives are Reached.

Warsaw—The Polish government has made known that as soon as the Polish army has obtained the military objectives assigned to it, the government will declare itself ready to enter into negotiations with the Bolshevik government.

Bolshevik troops, which succeeded in crossing the upper Beresina in several places, have been driven back across the river with heavy losses including more than 400 prisoners, according to an official statement issued here.

The enemy is attacking along the entire northern Polish front, but has been checked everywhere, it is asserted.

Fighting continues along the whole front and the Bolsheviks have brought up the largest number of troops ever faced by the Poles. Sixteen divisions have been identified as taking part in the struggle.

Hearings Opened On Freight Rates.

Washington—Representatives of every interest concerned in the operation of the country's railway system, as well as the public, were here for the opening of the hearing by the Interstate Commerce Commission of applications for increased freight rates. The road owners have claimed that in order to meet the 6 per cent return on their properties guaranteed by the recently enacted Transportation Act, it will be necessary to increase the earnings by $1,017,000,000.

Freight Congestion Is Reduced.

Washington—Reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission from its agents throughout the country showed a continued improvement in the railway freight congestion situation. Members of the commission expressed belief that the peak of the congestion had passed. Reports showed the number of cars accumulated at important terminals and gateways on various dates for the last 30 days to have been: April 24, 269,000; May 1, 235,000; May 8, 201,000; May 21, 170,000.

FLY ACROSS U. S. IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS, IS SCHROEDER'S PLAN

Cincinnati—Major W. R. Schroeder, holder of the world's air plane altitude flight, told members of the Chamber of Commerce whom he addressed here that in a few months he expected to make a high-altitude flight across the continent, having breakfast at San Francisco and dinner at New York.

"At an altitude of 30,000 to 35,000 feet, said Major Schroeder, "the high velocity anti-trade winds will allow carry us over 250 miles an hour and our engines will add more than a hundred miles an hour to the speed."

"These terrific winds of the upper air will make a morning spin from New York to Paris a common occurrence."

STATE TAX IS LITTLE CHANGED

$17,375,728 to Be Raised in Michigan in 1920.

Lansing—The state tax for 1920, will be $17,375,728.35. For 1919, it was $17,430,895.73.

The per capita expense of running the state government in 1919, was $6.81, while in 1910, it was but $2.17 or about one-third of the present cost. Of the huge sum, taxes for educational purposes aggregate $4,814,793.35 divided as follows:

University of Michigan, $2,437,500; Michigan Agricultural college, $935,600; Central Normal school, $133,330.50; College of Mines, $30,939.50; Normal college, $301,551.41; Northern Normal school, $184,180.87; School for the Deaf, $152,965.80; School for the Blind, $67,795.37; superintendent of public instruction, $4,650; physical training for the blind, $6,000; vocational education, $68,000; Western State Normal school, $285,500 and $80,000.

Various other amounts are allotted to other institutions throughout the state.

TO PROMOTE RESEARCH BUREAU

Michigan Manufacturers Organize Board of Advisors.

Ann Arbor—One hundred of the most prominent manufacturing men in Michigan met in Ann Arbor to confer with the Board of Regents regarding plans for the proposed Bureau of Engineering Research the regents have agreed to establish. The morning session in inspecting the laboratories and other facilities of the university. In the afternoon they discussed the plan and organized permanently. The body is to act in an advisory capacity to the regents according to tentative plans. The bureau of research will attempt to keep state industry informed of new developments along industrial lines and try to solve industrial problems.

HUERTA CHOSEN MEXICO CHIEF

Provisional President Named While Carranza Is Buried.

Mexico City—Adolfo de la Huerta, governor of the state of Sonora, was elected provisional president of Mexico by the Mexican congress. Senor de la Huerta was elected by an overwhelming majority, receiving 224 votes against 28 for Gen. Pablo Gonzalez, one of the military chiefs of the revolution.

Just before congress assembled for the balloting, the late president, Venustiano Carranza, was buried in the Dolores cemetery amid scenes of grief that were in contrast with the hostile feelings that were manifested against Carranza during his last days in office.

More than a dozen army officers and other officials who were with the Carranza party when the late president was killed in the Hidalgo mountains, and who accompanied the body to this city, are under arrest in the Santiago prison.

KIDNAPPING INQUIRY ORDERED

State Department Will Investigate Holding of U. S. Citizens.

Washington—Investigation has been ordered by the State Department of the circumstances attending the kidnapping of two Americans in Mexico.

The American consul at Chihuahua has been instructed to conduct the inquiry, and there are indications no representations will be made to the new Mexican government unless the investigation develops that the men were seized by others than forces of Francisco Villa. It is assumed, however, the Americans were carried off at Villa's orders as a part of his tactics to extort tribute from the mining companies.

War Contract Pay Is Promised.

Washington—Settlement of all unliquidated war contracts by July 1 was announced by the secretary of war, as the department's goal. This statement was made in response to a question as to the charge made in New York that failure of the war department to pay off the obligations incurred during the war had much to do with the present financial situation. It was said that only 1,500 out of 25,000 claims remain to be settled and that the amount is under $100,000,000.

Ones $1,000 For Insomnia Cure.

Chicago—Scores of persons besieged the home of Benjamin Hyde, a retired contractor, who, in a newspaper advertisement, offered $1,000 to anyone who could tell him how to obtain sleep without the use of medicine. Mr. Hyde said he had suffered six years with paralysis agitans, which caused his body to tremble with a constant quiver and that he could not sleep or write. "I can't sleep," he said, "it jars me awake constantly. I need sleep and I'm advertising for it."

New York—Union barbers who have voted to strike for higher wages have decided to protect the innocent party in the controversy—the well known public—as much as possible. Any man who wants a shave, haircut, massage or shampoo has only to telephone to union headquarters and a barber will shortly appear at the home, club or store.

Coal Enough For 7,000 Years.

Chicago—The United States is in no danger of exhausting its coal in the near future, for about 7,000 years' supply is available, S. M. Darling, of the bureau of mines, told the twelfth annual convention of the international Railway Fuel association. He estimated the supply of minable coal at 3,553,637,106,000 tons. Last year's consumption, he said, was 530,000,000 tons.

25 Seconds, Shortest Jail Term.

Chicago—Twenty-five seconds—one of the shortest sentences on record in federal courts—was imposed upon Jesse Nash, charged with tampering with the mails. As Nash walked to the court room door in custody of a deputy marshal the judge called "Time's up!" and the prisoner was released. Nash admitted obtaining possession of letters written by his wife to another man.

Buttermilk Put in Rum Class.

Washington—Buttermilk is booze when it contains more than 1.2 of 1 per cent of alcohol, according to a report made by officials of the department of agriculture to Representative William L. Igoe, of Missouri. Mr. Igoe was prompted to make an inquiry as to the legal status of buttermilk when he received reports from chemists at St. Louis that buttermilk sometimes contained 12 of 1 per cent of alcohol.

Ice Cream "Debauch" in Manhattan.

New York—More than $100,000.00 a month is being spent for luxuries in Manhattan, according to the collector of internal revenues. He declares that what is generally termed "the orgy of spending" has not exhausted itself. "My accounts show," he said, "that there is more money collected in tax from ice cream sodas and other small sales which carry a penny or two tax than there is from the sale of diamonds, furs, touring cars and other expensive items."

Another Revolution, Harden Warns.

Berlin—Another revolution in Germany within six weeks, accompanied by a reactionary reign of terror, was predicted by Max Harden. "You can feel revolution in the air," he declared. "It has been shown by the unsuccessful Von Kapp coup that plotters have nothing to lose if they fail and everything to win if they succeed. The government has not punished a single person who took part in the Von Kapp uprising. The terror will begin with a camouflaged revolution."

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE PINES.

"On the crest of a hill," said Daddy, "there stood a house which was called Greencastle. All about the house were green terraces and around the piazzas were big ferns which had once been little ferns and which had been planted by a little girl who had grown up to be a big girl."

"In front of the house were two trees she had planted too and which she had watered as one would water flowers, and now they were strong and were growing taller all the time. They were twice as tall as she was now."

"But in the back of the house were two great pines and between the two great pines were two little pines. Many and many a time had the pines been used for the little girl and her friends to climb and she had had a trapeze hanging from one and a swing from the other, and she had had home circus parties there."

"I must have a talk with you," said the first big pine to the two little pines, and the little pines lifted up their branches to the great pines and said, "Do talk to us."

"I am growing old, very old," said the first big pine. "But still I am tall and straight and high up my branches"

In the Back of the House.

are very lovely, I'm told. I am older than the other big pine here, and I do not feel so strong now. I think I am getting too old and that I may have to be chopped down before long for kindling wood—that is, I would have to be chopped down for big firewood. I am too big for kindling wood."

"Sh!" said one of the little pines. "Do not talk like that, big pine. You make us feel so sad. We have loved you so."

"There will still be the big pine near by who will talk to you and to whom you will be able to look for advice," said the other big pine.

"But we don't want anything to happen to you," said the little pines.

"Ah, when my time is finished for standing here," said the big pine, "I will be glad to still be of use to people. I shall burn so warm and so brightly and shall make a great many fires."

"And I have had a very wonderful life. I have seen children grow up into men and women, fine men and women, and I've seen more children come along, little boys and little girls, and how I've loved them all."

"They've sat under me when it was hot in the summer and they've brought rugs here and have put them under me. There they have had naps and I have kept them cool and have sung to them ever so gently."

"And at night the moon has peeped over my shoulder and has told one of all he has seen peeping into children's bedrooms. He has seen them smiling in their sleep because the Dreamland King has given them such wonderful dreams, and because the Fairy Wondrous Secrets has seen that such marvelous packages of dreams have been done up for them."

"And my companion here has had the same experiences. But I want to tell you, little trees, grow up, and be strong and be fine. Do not let the wind knock you over. Be yourself, a strong pine tree. Do not be blown this way and that, for if you let yourself be blown this way and that, there will be nothing to you that is firm and true and fine."

"Remember fine trees have a double honor. They shade in the summer time and in the winter time they give pleasure, for they do not lose their green. They are always green."

"Oh, dear big pine," said the little pines, "we cannot bear to see either of our big pines go. Do you think you will be taken for wood?"

"I heard some talk about it," the big pine said.

"But just then a man came out, and looking at the pines said, 'I thought that big pine there would have to go, but I guess we can leave him there for a good, long time yet.'"

"And all the pines were very glad."

The Best Bargain.

Little Johnnie had an apple, which he was beginning to munch during the lunch hour. Another small boy sitting near him eyed him in envy. In fact, he stared so hard that Johnnie felt awkward.

At last he could stand it no longer. Handing over the rosy apple, he said: "Have a bite?"

Eagerly the other youngster took the apple and bit. When Johnnie got his apple back again, he looked at it in wonder. Then he turned to the other boy, now busily munching and cried: "Here! Give me that bite, and you can have the apple!"

As Benson walked along the busy street he was stopped by a shabby individual. "Excuse me, sir," said he, "but I wonder if you could lend me a quarter?"

Benson was startled and demanded to know why the quarter was needed. "Haven't you a job?" he demanded.

"No, sir," whined the shabby individual. "You see, I'm a state roofer by trade. But I can't work at it because I fell off a roof and lost my nerve."

"Oh, no, you didn't!" said Benson, as he walked on quickly. "Your nerve's all right."—Houston Post.

FIVE-YEAR-OLDS WILL TALK

And Surely This One Came Near to "Spilling the Beans" for Poor Mamma.

After looking at all the runs in the store, the customer decided that she thought she liked the pink one with the purple roses best.

"But I'd like to see it in my room," she said. "I suppose you'll send it up on approval?"

"Well, madam, it's exceedingly unusual," demurred the proprietor. "But in the circumstances, perhaps."

The customer's five-year-old daughter, who had stood silent during the long inspection, now tugged violently at her mother's skirt.

"Oh, mamma," she pined in her fatherly clear tone, "didn't you better warn him to be sure and get it there in time? Our party's tomorrow, you know."

Mrs. H. Ivory, who has been visiting relatives and friends at her old home in Orion, and also spending some time in Oxford and Detroit, returned home Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Ivory is the mother of Mrs. C. J. Hathaway.

Several of our citizens have called our attention to the fact that dogs have been into their gardens and in many instances have done considerable damage. Having gardens are the people's privilege and also owning dogs is perfectly legal provided the dog tax is paid, but no owner has a right to permit his dog, or his cattle, horses, chickens nor any other domestic animal or fowl to do damage to another's property, and can be held responsible for any damage done. The family garden is often times the pride of the owner and, after the season is well advanced, to destroy it makes it useless and too late for re-planting. Regard for other people's rights should be had by owners of dogs, etc., by keeping them at home, and the pleasant feeling among neighbors continued without trouble. It is well worth while.

A number of the country newspapers in the surrounding towns are increasing their subscription rates to take effect July 1st.

James Foreman of Bay City was in Grayling over Sunday and with a party of Grayling friends enjoyed a fishing trip while here.

Mr. and Mrs. William McNeven and son Harold and daughter Nadine motored to West Branch last Saturday, returning the same day.

Miss Emma Mayo came home from Bay City Sunday morning to spend a couple of days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayo.

Harold Rasmussen resumed his duties at the Salling Hanson Co. store Tuesday, after a several days' absence being ill during that time with quinsy at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Burrows and Mr. and Mrs. A. Trudeau left Saturday night and drove to Cheboygan to spend a couple of days, that being the former home of both families.

Walter Hemmingson of Detroit visited his father Chris Hemmingson over Decoration day, and while here enjoyed catching a number of speckled beauties, while fishing in the AuSable.

Detroit papers of Monday reported the death of Andrew Simpson, who was struck by a fly-wheel, while at work in the Maxwell Motor Car Co. plant, Saturday morning and died on the way to the Receiving hospital. Mr. Simpson at one time resided in Grayling being employed at the flooring mill, and making his home with the Cariveau family, who now reside in Detroit. He was a brother of Ebenezer Simpson of Detroit, also formerly of Grayling. The home of the young men is in Hollywood, Massachusetts.

Local fishermen are showing up some remarkably fine catches of trout these days. One enthusiastic "Isaac" had 24 brook trout, 15 of which were over 12 inches in length. Others are also having fine luck. The Old AuSable is surely coming back into its own, due largely to the grand results made possible by the Grayling Fish Hatchery. This institution has been hatching and planting trout beginning with the spring of 1914. It was established by private interests purposely to stock the AuSable river, its branches and the Manistee river, where special care could be taken and well developed fry, mostly fingerlings, planted. The results are that fishing is getting better each year. The Hatchery is also hatching trout for the State for planting in other streams.

The Hoover lifts the rug from the floor, like this—flutters it upon a cushion of air, gently "beats" out its imbedded grit, and so prolongs its life

Even the clinging hairs that pets spread on rugs are instantly detached by the thorough sweeping of The Hoover. By its gentle beating it dislodges the destructive embedded grit. By its suction cleaving it withdraws the loosened dirt. These are the three essentials of thorough cleaning. Only The Hoover performs them all. And it is the largest selling electric cleaner in the world.

Michigan News Tersely Told

Hillsdale.—Harry H. Gardner, said to be the original "human fly," climbed Hillsdale's court house.

Nezamee.—The Beaver Granulith Co. is to construct immediately a stone crushing plant at Morgan Heights to cost $200,000.

Menominee.—Members of the Riverside Country Club have decided to build a new clubhouse to cost in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Kalamazoo.—Truman Warner, of Plainwell, was instantly killed when the auto he was driving was struck by a freight train on a crossing.

Mt. Pleasant.—The Isabella County State Bank will take over $35,000 worth of state bonds allotted Mt. Pleasant as its share in the state highway trunk line.

Cadillac.—Local capitalists have agreed to buy sufficient state highway bonds to finance the state's share of trunk line highway construction in Wexford County this year.

Corunna.—The assessed valuation of real estate in Corunna was raised by the Board of Review from 5 to 30 per cent. Real estate has doubled in value here in the last six months.

Frankenmuth.—Seven alleged night riders, believed to be alien Reds, were escorted out of town by a volunteer posse composed of sugar beet growers, business men and schoolboys.

Pottsville.—"Grandma" Konkrite, oldest resident of Eaton county, recently observed her hundredth birthday. She has been a resident of Pottsville for more than 84 years.

Traverse City.—Organization of the National Cherry Growers' Association has been perfected at a meeting at Frankfort attended by growers from Michigan, Wisconsin and New York.

Kalamazoo.—Circuit Judge Wimer has ruled a wife may sit on the same jury with her husband. Mrs. Aaron West Vern was accepted after her husband had been previously admitted, when she assured the prosecutor she could make up her mind on the case independently of her husband.

Roscommon.—Mrs. Frank Tyjeck is dead and her husband is in a critical condition as a result of ptomaine poisoning. The couple drank freely from a jug of buttermilk and took sick several hours later. The churn in which the buttermilk was made was said to be in a very unsanitary condition.

Bay City.—Samuel Ball, manager of the Saginaw-Bay City Street Railway, was ordered to pay a fine of $1,100 by Police Justice R. G. Phillips for violation of the ordinance which provides that cars be operated by two men each. The fine is for $100 a day for 11 days. An appeal was taken to the circuit court.

Saginaw.—Explosion of the boiler on a Michigan Central train between here and Bay City, killed the engineer and fireman and wrecked the engine. R. J. Smith, Detroit, was the engineer and Frank Schmupp, Detroit, was the fireman. The train was bound for Detroit from Mackinaw and the engine had just been taken on at Bay City. No passengers were hurt.

Mt. Clemens.—Mayor A. F. Serna has been notified by telegraph from Washington by Rep. Louis C. Crampton, that the Interstate Commerce Commission has arranged for the delivery in this state of 600 cars of coal within the next few days. Local industries have been hit hard by the coal shortage. The Mt. Clemens Gas Co. has little coal left and is making, for the most part, a water gas.

Jackson.—Never since the war have so many freight cars, both loaded and empty, passed through the local yards in a given period as in a recent two days, according to local Michigan Central officials. Forty-two cars of coal, said to be bound for west Michigan points comprised one train. This movement was credited to the congested drive by the Interstate Commerce commission and railway executives.

Port Huron.—County Clerk Joseph E. Vincent states that ballots of the Ford-Newberry election in St. Clair county were not destroyed but following the custom of the office of holding the tally sheets and pool books for one year only, these pool books and tally sheets now wanted by senate investigating committee, have been destroyed. Vaults in the county building are not equipped for storing election returns longer than a year.

Lansing.—The state inspector of orchards has issued a warning to fruit growers against purchase of insecticides offered to obviate the necessity of tree spraying. The bug killers are "fakes," the inspector says, and offers that "a liberal amount will be sent prepaid for $1" are designed merely to obtain dollars. The insecticides are composed of sulphur, charcoal and nitrates, analysts shows, according to the inspector.

Jackson.—The arbitrators in the wage matter at issue between the employees of the city and interurban lines of the Michigan Railways company made their award. The men on the city lines were granted a wage of 60 cents an hour for the first year of service and 62 cents an hour thereafter. The men in the interurban service of the company were awarded 65 cents an hour for the first six months of service and 70 cents an hour thereafter. All employees are to receive an additional 10 cents per hour for all work in excess of the schedule.

Saginaw.—Efforts to run down rumors of night riders, dynamiting and incendiarism in the Saginaw Valley and vicinity as the result of the sugar beet fight have failed. Lieut. Scarcard, of the state police; Carl Schwinsberg, sheriff of Bay County, and others have investigated reports of trouble without finding evidence. The stories have been variously that homes of sugar beet growers who would not join the majority in refusing to grow beets under present prices offered by sugar companies had been threatened or damaged.

Three Rivers.—The city council has granted the Michigan Gas and Electric Co. an increase in rates from $1.50 to $2.

Monroe.—The board of education appointed Charles Reed inspector of buildings at a salary of $3,000. This is a new office.

Charlevoix.—Charlevoix County has 21 vacancies in the rural schools and no applications from teachers have as yet been made.

Traverse City.—The Federal census report shows this city's population has decreased 1,190 in ten years or 9.8 per cent. The population is 10,825.

Niles.—A few of the striking Michigan Central switchmen have returned to work here and the company is moving 2,000 cars a day, 75 per cent of normal.

Bay City.—Bay City shippers went on record as favoring the granting of increases in freight rates to railroads to enable them to rehabilitate their service.

Port Austin.—When W. H. Benedict passed the eighty-fourth milestone in life, he put his foot over his head in the presence of friends just to show them he is still young.

Bay City.—Charles A. Eddy, the last of a family of brothers and cousins who came to the Saginaw Valley in the early sixties and became famous in the lumbering world, is dead.

Saginaw.—Two steel interurban cars on the Michigan railway, one headed toward Flint and the other toward Saginaw, collided head-on near Birch run. Several people were slightly injured.

Rockford.—Mildred and Marie Muir, twin sisters, will marry Carl E. and Guy Dennis, twin brothers, who live just across the road, next month. They are building a bungalow which the two families will occupy.

Mt. Clemens.—The city and county officials have ordered that the new $500,000 concrete bridge over the Clinton River shall be lighted, when completed this fall, by a myriad of electric lights placed in attractive standards.

Cadillac.—Pennsylvania Railroad officials will take up the question of new freight warehouses. Present facilities are inadequate. The city authorities have considered condemning the little old sheds as fire and health nuisances. Railroad employees refuse to work in them.

Kalamazoo.—A $60,000 bonus for the Kalamazoo public school teachers will be voted on at the annual school election. The budget, which calls for the expenditure of $309,950 during the school year, will also be voted on at the election. The budget is $261,325 in excess of that for last year.

Ann Arbor.—That Michigan should immediately begin the raising of forests on her 10,000,000 acres of idle cut-over lands is the suggestion of Prof. P. S. Lovejoy, of the Faculty of Forestry at the University of Michigan. He points out that Michigan is now importing that which her lumber dealers once said "would never give out."

Albion.—The Albion Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution, which was telegraphed to the Interstate Commerce Commission, urging an advance in freight rates in order that carriers may be enabled to give local factories better service. Managers of local plants says that the present service is very poor and they prefer to pay higher rates and get real service.

Jackson.—A short time ago Louis Lorenson, former superintendent of the prison brick plant, was taken ill with pernicious anemia. Doctors advised him to undergo treatment at the hospital. When inmate 3284 heard of the former official's condition, he pleaded to be given the chance to save the officer's life. At the hospital a test showed that his blood was perfectly suited for the operation. The transfusion was performed at once. It proved successful. Lorenson is well on the road to recovery.

Bay City.—It developed at a meeting of good roads enthusiasts of Saginaw and Bay Counties that the proposition of indorsing construction of a paved highway between this city and Saginaw is going to result in a fight between factions favoring different highways. State Highway Commissioner Rogers, the Bay County Road Commission and local sentiment favor a proposed River Road as a trunk line route between the two cities. John Baird, of Zilwaukee, declared that he wanted the West Side Road designated.

Paw Paw.—Prospects for an abundant fruit crop in Van Buren county were never better than this spring. Cherry and peach trees are "set" full. The frosts recently did some damage, but the blossoms were so abundant and the weather in the last week so favorable that these fruits will be plentiful unless some unforeseen factor develops. Apples are in full blossom. Indications are for a fair crop, not bumper, but considerably better than the average for the last five years. The strawberry crop should be a huge one.

Ann Arbor.—Reports from Lexington, Ky., that hundreds of angle worms from two to five inches long fell from the clouds during a rain storm there, were declared to be inaccurate by Professor Peter Okkelberg, of the university faculty. The worms probably crawled up through the ground, drawn by the lure of the rain, according to Professor Okkelberg. Cases have been known, however, according to the professor, in which cyclones or tornadoes have created such a suction in the air that worms and fish have been picked up from lakes.

Saginaw.—"Striking" farmers, who refuse to raise sugar beets unless their demands for an increased price are met by the nine sugar refining companies are beaten, according to an official of a Michigan sugar company, who says about 10 per cent of the "strikers" have deserted the ranks and are accepting contracts to raise beets for $10 a ton and a bonus of a dollar a ton for each advance of a dollar a ton for wholesale sugar above a basic price of nine dollars a hundred. The strikers want a price of $12 and a bonus of $1.40 a ton.

Chicago Opens Its New Boulevard Bridge

After a delay of twenty years, an expenditure of over ten million dollars and more than 30,000 lawsuits and compromises, Chicago celebrated the formal opening of the new double-decked bascule bridge linking the north and south end of Michigan boulevard, thereby giving the city one of the longest and most beautiful drives in the world. Over 10,000 automobiles decorated with flowers crossed the bridge shortly after it was declared open by Mayor Thompson.

Re-establishing Their Right of Way

The British citizen always has been most jealous of the maintenance of his ancient rights of way. In order to re-establish their right of way through a bridal path leading to Hanworth park, the residents of Feltham, Middlesex, marched through, demolishing a wall en route. The path had been closed for a government aerodrome.

WILSON VETOES GERMAN PEACE

TELLS CONGRESS SUCH A MOVE IS INCONSISTENT WITH NATION'S DIGNITY.

SEES CHIEF WAR AIMS IN PACT

Rebukes Legislators For Not Accepting Treaty; House Unable to Upset Veto.

Washington.—President Wilson vetoed the peace resolution and informed congress he could not become a party to the peace program framed by Republican leaders of the senate and house because he considered it would put "an ineffaceable stain" on the nation's honor.

To establish technical peace by such a method, the president said in his veto message, would be to effect "a complete surrender of the rights of the United States so far as Germany is concerned" and to relinquish all the high purposes which led the nation into war and which were embodied in the rejected treaty of Versailles.

The president's act apparently brought to another and final deadlock the efforts of the present administration and congress to agree on a peace settlement.

In his message the president did not indicate whether he might again submit the treaty to the senate for ratification but he said the resolution raised again the question of whether the United States cared to draw apart from the rest of the world or to join with other nations in attaining the ends to which the treaty was framed.

The veto had been expected by the Republican leaders and they made plans to close the incident promptly by a record vote on repassage of the resolution. The message went first to the house, where its reading was greeted with cheers by Democrats and derision by Republicans.

For the most part, senate and house leaders refrained from comment on the president's action. The general tenor of the talk in the Republican side, however, was that the executive and not congress now must bear the responsibility if the nation continued technically at war, while among the Democrats it was reiterated that the nation still would hold the Republican senate to account for its failure to ratify the treaty. Representative Fess, of Ohio, chairman of the Republican congressional committee declared in a formal statement that the president was alone to blame and that the people were with the Republicans in their attempt to end, through the resolution, an intolerable situation.

House Unable to Upset Veto.

Washington.—Lacking 29 votes of the necessary two-thirds, the house failed to pass the Knox resolution ending the war with Germany and Austria, over President Wilson's veto.

The result was not unexpected. The vote was 220 to 152. 17 Democrats joining with Republicans in attempting to override the veto, while two Republicans voted with the Democrats to sustain it. Before starting the fight on the floor Republican leaders predicted that the veto would stand by a margin of 10, but nevertheless announced their determination to make the fight just the same and let the record go before the people.

COAL GOUGE IS HALF BILLION

Bituminous Owners Take Huge War-Time Profits.

Washington.—Bituminous coal owners took $500,000,000 in wartime profits, W. Jett Laucke, consulting economist of the railroad brotherhoods, declared in a supplementary survey of the bituminous coal industry, presented to the railroad labor board.

Translated into individual terms, Laucke declared, this means that each family in the United States paid approximately $25, thus accounting for "an important factor in the high cost of living."

SUGAR EMBARGO IS ACTED ON

Six Votes For and Three Against McNary Measure.

Washington.—By a vote of 6 to 3 the senate agriculture committee ordered a favorable report on the McNary bill providing for an export embargo on sugar.

Before taking final action the committee amended the measure so that it would not affect sugar sent to the United States by foreign countries or their nationals to be refined. Early senate consideration of the bill is planned by Senator McNary.

Strain on Bank Credit Easing, Report.

Chicago.—The peak of the strain on bank credit has passed in the east and is passing in the west, in the opinion of a prominent Chicago banker. A growing spirit of co-operation between bankers, manufacturers and merchants throughout the country is lessening the strain on credit. The federal reserve board did not make any distinction between essential and non-essential loans, it was said, and it did not ask banks to reduce loans on any fixed percentage basis.

Army Budget Bill Cut in Senate.

Washington.—The senate passed the army appropriation bill carrying $415,915,000. As passed, the bill provides for an increase of approximately $42,000,000 over the house bill, but $35,000,000 less than the appropriation for the present fiscal year. The principal senate increase was $12,745,000 for the army air service making the total for this purpose $40,000,000. The senate eliminated provisions which would give the army air service control of all military aerial operations.

Gold Output Subsidy Is Urged.

Washington.—Gold production, already greatly decreased, will practically cease unless speedy financial relief is given the mining companies, according to testimony given before the house. Every ounce of gold now produced costs the companies $8 to $10 more than the government price of $20.67, it was said. Immediate passage of a bill levying an excise tax of $10 an ounce on gold used by traders, with this money to be a subsidiary for the miners was urged.

Oil To Last Less Than 20 Years.

Washington.—Interest of the United States in the race for the oil supply of the world as embodied in the report of the state department to the senate has arisen from the alarming depletion of oil reserve in the United States. While this country contributes 40 per cent of the oil supply of the world, 40 per cent of its producing fields have been exhausted and oil reserves remaining are not expected to last 20 years. Of the reserve here, foreign interests control 4 per cent.

She suggests large apartment houses and hotels in Jerusalem, Jaffa and Haifa.

SKIRTS ADOPT MODISH PLAITS

ACCORDION plaits and side-plaits appear to be occupying the thoughts of many designers this season. They are shown in everything from capes to negligees. In the soft, sheer materials, the thin, supple silks and satins, they are at their very best, and in the heavier fabrics, used for suits or skirts or capes, designers have managed them cleverly. In stripes and plaids, plaits change the lines and predominating colors so that manufacturers of separate skirts appear to be fascinated by them; they give so much opportunity for the exercise of ingenuity. It seems like painting the lily and adorning the rose to change or add anything to some of the beautiful plaids and stripes that appear in silk and wool materials; but it is done, and we have to concede that something of interest is added to the garment made in this way.

One of the skirts pictured here features stripes running horizontally and the material laid in moderately wide side plaits. Odd and fanciful pockets, without plaits are set on at each side. They are something like saddle-bag pockets, with rounded flaps, and they hang as if separate from the skirt. Four balls covered with the material make an unusual finish across the bottom of them. The plait is ingenious, too. Its ends are split at the front, forming two straps, the top straps fastening with a large button while the lower ones cross and are finished at the ends with balls. Accordion plaiting has been chosen by the designer of the plaid silk skirt and he has shown his independence of any other material in this model. It sets close to the figure and this, with its girde of silk with flat hanging ends at the front, somehow suggests an Egyptian inspiration. The sash ends are folded over the belt and gathered into silk ornaments at the bottom.

New Departure in Smocks

ALL at once and with one accord, the creators of smocks and blouses seemed to have seized upon tricolette as a promising material for their purposes. Whoever started it uncovered an idea that has flourished from the beginning and has led into several by-paths in apparel. Besides smocks, close-fitting jackets, or bodices, often sleeveless and extended at the front into girdles or sash ends, have made their entry for summer wear, in gay and beautiful colors. Tricolette and other weaves in the same silk fiber, make many of these; they will be rivals of the silk sweater later on and belong among the glorified sports clothes that are entrenched for a long stay and crowding tailored modes for street wear.

Tricolette in one of the most popular smocks is shown here, with a finish of silk fringe at the bottom and embellishment embroidered of flower sprays about the neck and down the front opening. Gray is a favorite color for smocks of this kind and gay colors appear in the flowers, but the smocks are made in many colors. A plain girde, made of the material, or a silk cord and tassel, matching the smock in color, furnish the best management of the waistline. The neck and short front opening are bound with plain satin and small round buttons, covered with it, add a last touch to a delightful piece of work.

A handsome georgette smock, with all-over pattern in silk embroidery, is used for the dressier model shown in the picture. It is one of many in which georgette, in a dark color, serves as a background for rich embroidered effects and these pretty garments are in high favor for formal afternoon and

DAIRY

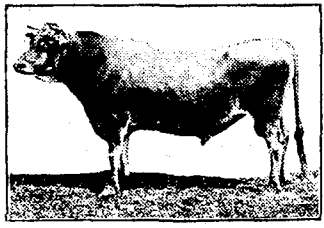

BULL ASSOCIATIONS TO STAY

Every Dairyman in Community May Have Use of Animals of High Producing Ancestry.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Bull associations are here to stay. Figures furnished by the United States department of agriculture show that there were 78 co-operative bull associations in operation in this country on July 1, 1919, which represents a gain of 34 associations over the previous year when records showed that there were 44 associations active on July 1, 1918.

Bull associations have proved especially popular in sections where dairying is a comparatively new industry. Many dairymen have been anxious to increase the productivity of their cows, but due to the fact that their herds were small and their resources limited, it was often impossible for them to buy and maintain sufficiently good purebred bulls to accomplish this purpose. It is in cases of this kind that the bull association has proved most valuable, says the department. By organizing the dairymen into an association and working co-operatively the purchase of proved bulls of high producing ancestry is made possible. By using these animals co-operatively a few good bulls can take the place of all the inferior bulls formerly found in the community.

The Average Dairyman Cannot Own This Kind, But the Community of Dairymen Can.

An example of what the bull association can do in improving the type of sires is found in the South Gibson Bull association of Susquehanna county, Pa. This association has 20 members who own a total of 382 cows. Before the bull association was formed there were 18 bulls in the community with a total valuation of $7,300. After organizing, only four bulls were needed and these were purchased at a total cost of $4,800. The average investment in each of the 13 bulls in use before organizing was $561.54, but after the association was formed the average investment was $1,200 for each of the good bulls. In this way each dairyman had the use of bulls that were twice as valuable as the bulls used formerly, and at the same time his investment was $125 less.

The southern states have been found especially well adapted to bull association work. Dairying in these states is making rapid strides, and producers have shown great interest in improved dairy cattle. Twenty of the associations organized during the past year are credited to the South, six associations having been formed in Mississippi, four in North Carolina, three in South Carolina, two each in Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee, and one in Louisiana.

DISEASES OF DAIRY CATTLE

Careful Observation Detects Approaching Illness and Simple Remedies Avoid Trouble.

The caretaker of a dairy herd must be able to recognize and treat some of the common diseases affecting cattle, since they are likely to occur at any time. In many cases it may be advisable to employ the services of a trained veterinarian, but often helpful home treatment may be given. Careful observation at all times usually results in detecting approaching illness, and frequently simple remedies may be applied in time to prevent further development. Prevention is far better than cure and less expensive.

It is well to keep on hand some of the simple and well-known drugs such as Epsom salts, saltpeter, gum camphor, ginger, tincture of iodine and alum water, and such apparatus as a milk-fever outfit, tractor and canula, fever thermometer, hose and funnel and drenching bottle.

DAIRY NOTES

The bull should be well cared for.

It takes a mighty good cow to hold her own with 25 average hens.

Milk production is very largely a matter of proper feed induction.

Whitewash is one of the best and cheapest barn interior decorations.

It is worth as much or a little more to feed and care for a bull a year than for a cow.

It is important that the calf pens be so placed as to avoid too great variations in temperature.

Milking is a dirty job these cold mornings, but don't slight the precautions to keep the dirt out of the pail.

Feed is high priced, but we cannot afford to stint the producing cow.

Cows are very important farm animals. Every farmer should take good care of his cows.

A good cow is always worth more than she will bring on the market. Take good care of your cows.

A dairyman talks about pounds of milk. The consumer thinks of it in quarts. Four quarts of average milk weigh a bit over 8½ pounds.

GEORGE KELLY IS TALLEST FIRST SACKER

George Kelly, Giants' first baseman, can thank nature for his unusual height. Kelly is 6 feet 4 inches and the tallest first sacker in either of the big leagues. He can grab a ball 9 feet in the air without taking his feet off the ground. His long reach also comes in handy for spearing grounders and wild throws.

ALTROCK SAYS OLD AGE IS FLIRTING WITH HIM

Uncle Nick Altrock, the bird who is making the fans laugh around the American league circuit, says old age is pitching him some hard curves, but that he'll never quit the game. Nick's left wing went bad. Next his "dogs" began to bother, and now his humps are flickering. Nick vows he may appear on the coaching line one of these days behind a pair of cleats.

"Except in daylight I can't read any more without having the lines run together. Guess I must be getting old after all. Old age is flirting with me, but I'll never quit the diamond."

BASEBALL STORIES

Puny batting has been the Giants' biggest handicap.

Joe Kelley says that Willie Keeler was the best batter in baseball.

It is not very difficult for an umpire to find an excuse for doing what he wishes.

Jack Quinn of the Yanks says he'll be as effective without the splitter as with it.

Connie Mack has sent one of his catching prospects, Styles, back to the Atlanta club.

Bert Kinney of the Athletics is developing into one of the best pitchers in the business.

Manager John J. McGraw of the Giants has been active in baseball thirty-one years.

Reuther, lucky last year, seems to have become heir of the jinx that tormented Jimmy Ring.

Johnny Dobbs declares he is serious in his announcement that this will be his last year in baseball.

The Brantford Mint league club has sold catcher Phil Carroll to Sioux City of the Western league.

Jack Wisner, a lengthy youth, has a world of speed. He's just wild enough to make the hitters stand back.

Players come and players go, but Johnny Austin keeps on holding down third for the St. Louis Browns.

Dowd, formerly on Connie Mack's payroll, seems to have clinched the middle sack on the Bison infield.

Some of the star hurlers were unfortunately treated in the opening games, but their revenge will come later.

Arthur Devlin, coaching Fordham college, is said to have a wonderful young pitcher in a lad named Culleton.

Al Schacht starred as a shutout twirler last season at Jersey City and he is showing the same form in the majors.

Casey Stengel is showing as much vim in a Philadelphia uniform as he displayed when with the Robins or Pirates.

Ross Young has invented a new bunt which consists of popping the ball about three inches over the third baseman's brow.

The Athletics wore white elephants last year. This year they are green; but elephants are all right unless they are pink.

Even the college blues are kissing the "splitter" goodnight. The West Virginia university team has ruled it out as objectionable.

The Milwaukee club is strong for local boys. Lutke, Armstrong and Hamer, are making good on the job with the Brewers.

Babe Adams deserves credit for quitting the old Missouri farm, even though wheat is away up. A guy who can pitch the way Babe does has no place among the Hicks.

Morris Roth is hitting terrifically. Looks as if he might realize his great ambition—to hit over 300 for a whole season in the big league.

Gradually the season is getting under way. Meyers, center fielder for Brooklyn, punched Oscar Dugey, Boston coach, on the nose because of a bit of ribald chatter.

The Euld team of the Western association will hereafter be known as the Harvesters, a prize of a season ticket being given a young lady for naming the team.

The release of E. H. ("Slim") Love, left-handed pitcher to the San Francisco club of the Pacific coast league, is announced by Manager Hughey Jennings of the Detroit American league club.

For pitching efficiency and conservation of energy, Fred Toney ranks with the best. Toney has no elaborate wind-up. He simply raises the arms, aims and fires. Control is his principal asset.

GREEDY PLAYERS ARE WEAKENING BASEBALL

Avarice, Strikes and Gambling Scandals Hurt Game.

Big League Club Owners May Decide to Abolish World's Series or Divide Net Receipts Among Themselves in Future.

So much trouble in baseball has been caused by the playing of the world's series that the big league club owners may decide either to abolish the games altogether or to divide the net receipts among themselves, says a well known baseball veteran, in Evening Sun.

The players are responsible for the hostile attitude of some of the magnates, who say that the squabbles over world's series shares are commercializing baseball to such a degree that sportsmanship soon may be of no importance.

Greed for gold is creating much ill feeling in the camp of the Yankees. Although the players received handsome salaries last year, with about $500 each extra for winning third position, under the new world's series rules, they grumbled because the groundkeeper, the trainer and two assistant secretaries were included in the melon cutting.

In spite of heavy financial burdens, which the owners of the Yankees have shouldered the players threatened to call a strike unless their demands were granted. They were prepared to deprive their employers of gate receipts from exhibition games, which hardly pay the expenses of the southern training trip.

Avarice on the part of ball players is slowly but surely discouraging and disgusting the public. When the Cubs and Red Sox, during the 1915 world's series in Boston, struck for more money than they were entitled to, under the rules adopted by the national commission, they dealt the game a body blow.

Last year certain players openly expressed a desire to be traded to teams that appeared to have chances to participate in the world's series. Several stars have repudiated contracts for the purpose of getting more money elsewhere.

With charges of collusion between a few players and professional gamblers, shaking the confidence of the fans, it cannot be denied that baseball needs a tremendous shakeup.

Sufficient Promise in Interesting Branch of Raising Stock to Attract New Men.

When a breeder of trotting horses can realize $1,000 around for his entire crop of foals sold by auction within 12 months after they were born, as the owners of Walnut Hall farm did recently, there should be sufficient promise in this interesting branch of stock breeding to bring a lot of new men into it, but just now they are fewer than at any other time in fifty years.

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS NOW WELL AND HAPPY

THIS IS WORTH READING

The experience of Mr. E. J. Tou-palik, 1438 Rose street, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.

He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief."

"This winter I was taken with Grip and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."

"For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins, bloating, belching gas, indigestion, catarrh of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended."

"PE-RU-NA can be purchased anywhere in either tablet or liquid form."

Far From H. C. L.

According to William H. Linton of Ketchikan, Alaska, Ketchikan is one place where there is no need to worry about the high cost of living. He says: "You could come to Ketchikan and build your own shack in the country near by, catch fish as quickly as you could cast your line in the rippling streams, shoot deer and other game enough to last you for months, make your own maple sugar, render your own lard, trade some extra fish for bread or flour, trade a little meat for furniture or make it yourself, and be comfortably happy."

DEATH WAS NEAR

Florida Woman in Critical Condition From Dropsy. But Doan's Brought Recovery

"Dropsy brought me right down to the shadow of the grave," says Mrs. Ida B. Atwell, 801 William St., Key West, Fla. "For fifteen years I was a hopeless wreck, struggling between life and death. The pains were so severe in my back I screamed in agony. My head ached so severely I thought my skull was being crushed. Black specks floated before my eyes, and I had to grasp the bed to keep from falling."

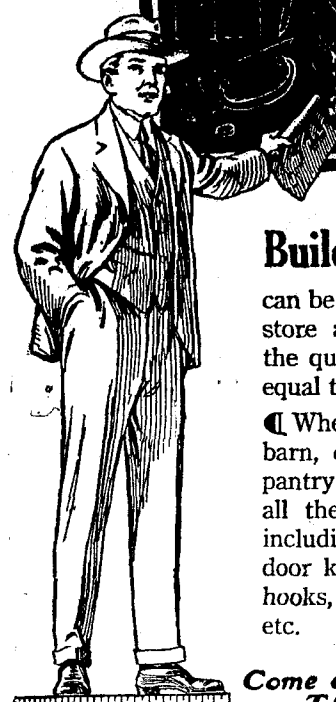

"The kidney secretions burned and scalded and I could pass only a few drops at a time. My body bloated. The pressure of so much water on my chest almost smothered me. My feet also swelled and large sacs of water hung beneath my eyes. My skin had a shiny, white appearance and anywhere I pressed a dent would remain for hours. I became a nervous wreck."

"A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and oh! I felt so happy when I found they were helping me. Continued use of Doan's completely cured me." Sworn to before me. ARTHUR GOMEZ, Notary Public.

THE CLOVER AND THE BUMBLE BEE.

Part III.

"The Mother Bee," said the little Green Man,

"Works hard away as ever she can; Finds a hole in the ground to lay her eggs. Then flies to the clover and kindly begs For a bit of pollen and nectar sweet So that her babies may have to eat."

She buries it snug in a waxen nest And the baby bees think it is the best of anything, ever! Then they grow up And roll in the heart of a clover cup. And so begins life all over again Helped by the sun, the wind, and the rain."

"The Elf Man is a very knowing little fairy," said the Bumble. "I am very much obliged to him. Some time I may be of help to his children and hum a song about them. Who knows?"

The Elf man drew himself up on his tiny toes. "I am a bachelor elf, madam," he said with dignity. "That is a ma-lady which time can cure. Oh, a pun, a pun! I didn't mean to make it, but it slipped out. And Madam Bumble went off into hums of laughter. As she buzzed thro' the garden she sang this song:

"Bumble, bumble, o'er the lea Sails the merry bumble bee. Never kill a bumble bee— For I make red clover grow, And 'tis clover, as you know, That makes you so swift and strong. Eyes so bright and limbs so long. For the cow likes clover, too, And she gives sweet milk for you. When at meals you drink it up Play it's in a clover cup."

WILSON VETOES GERMAN PEACE

TELLS CONGRESS SUCH A MOVE IS INCONSISTENT WITH NATION'S DIGNITY.

SEES CHIEF WAR AIMS IN PACT

Rebukes Legislators For Not Accepting Treaty; House Unable to Upset Veto.

Washington. — President Wilson vetoed the peace resolution and informed congress he could not become a party to the peace program framed by Republican leaders of the senate and house because he considered it would put "an ineffaceable stain" on the nation's honor.

To establish technical peace by such a method, the president said in his veto message, would be to effect "a complete surrender of the rights of the United States so far as Germany is concerned" and to relinquish all the high purposes which led the nation into war and which were embodied in the rejected treaty of Versailles.

The president's act apparently brought to another and final deadlock the efforts of the present administration and congress to agree on a peace settlement.

In his message the president did not indicate whether he might again submit the treaty to the senate for ratification but he said the resolution raised again the question of whether the United States cared to draw apart from the rest of the world or to join with other nations in attaining the ends to which the treaty was framed.

The veto had been expected by the Republican leaders and they made plans to close the incident promptly by a record vote on repassage of the resolution. The message went first to the house, where its reading was greeted with cheers by Democrats and derision by Republicans.

For the most part, senate and house leaders refrained from comment on the president's action. The general tenor of the talk in the Republican side, however, was that the executive and not congress now must bear the responsibility if the nation continued technically at war, while among the Democrats it was reiterated that the nation still would hold the Republican senate to account for its failure to ratify the treaty. Representative Fess, of Ohio, chairman of the Republican congressional committee declared in a formal statement that the president was alone to blame and that the people were with the Republicans in their attempt to end, through the resolution, an intolerable situation.

House Unable to Upset Veto.

Washington.—Lacking 29 votes of the necessary two-thirds, the house failed to pass the Knox resolution ending the war with Germany and Austria, over President Wilson's veto.

The result was not unexpected. The vote was 220 to 152, 17 Democrats joining with Republicans in attempting to override the veto, while two Republicans voted with the Democrats to sustain it. Before starting the fight on the floor, Republican leaders predicted that the veto would stand by a margin of 10, but nevertheless announced their determination to make the fight just the same and let the record go before the people.

COAL GOUGE IS HALF BILLION

Bituminous Owners Take Huge War-Time Profits.

Washington.—Bituminous coal owners took $500,000,000 in war-time profits, W. Jett Laucke, consulting economist of the railroad brotherhoods, declared in a supplementary survey of the bituminous coal industry, presented to the railroad labor board.

Translated into individual terms, Laucke declared, this means that each family in the United States paid approximately $25, thus accounting for "an important factor in the high cost of living."

SUGAR EMBARGO IS ACTED ON

Six Votes For and Three Against McNary Measure.

Washington.—By a vote of 6 to 3 the senate agriculture committee ordered a favorable report on the McNary bill providing for an export embargo on sugar.

Before taking final action the committee amended the measure so that it would not affect sugar sent to the United States by foreign countries or their nationals to be refined. Early senate consideration of the bill is planned by Senator McNary.

Strain on Bank Credit Easing, Report.

Chicago.—The peak of the strain on bank credit has passed in the east and is passing in the west, in the opinion of a prominent Chicago banker. A growing spirit of co-operation between bankers, manufacturers and merchants throughout the country is lessening the strain on credit. The federal reserve board did not make any distinction between essential and non-essential loans, it was said, and it did not ask banks to reduce loans on any fixed percentage basis.

FEAST WORTHY OF THE NAME

Montenegrins Put Up Elaborate Spread as Natural Part of the Wedding Ceremony.

The feast prepared by Montenegrins, when weddings are celebrated, overshadow the most elaborate affairs along that line in America, says Edna Worthley Underwood, in a translation of a story, "Furor Illyricus," by A. von Vestendorf. Two serving maids and the head of the house enter with huge, four-cornered bottles. One little drink and a dried fig open the meal. This is a custom to banish the taste of cigars, which are always in evidence. The heavy, thick, ink-black wine of Lissa is then poured, and the diners choose their favorite morsels from plates, after which sugared eggs are passed around. This is just the beginning of the banquet, which is followed by minestra, baked macaroni, with hash made from the entrails of young lambs, fowl roasted in sugar, small barboni baked in oil, baked ink fish with citron, pullets cooked with fresh vegetables, and beef served on huge platters. Wine flows in abundance, and boisterous laughter and loud talking prevail. The banquet is closed with a special dish, after champagne has been served. A roast lamb is brought in on a wooden platter, and put near the lower end of the large table. With a lordly gesture the master of ceremonies steps forward, and with a large knife, ground as thin as a hair, chops the lamb into four pieces with two strokes. The women continue to eat cakes and fruit, but the men spend the remainder of the time drinking.

GENTILITY IN HUMBLE GARB

Rags and Tatters Proudly Worn by the Famous Experimenters at Brook Farm.

"Arcadians though we were," wrote Hawthorne of the Brooks farm experiment, "our costume bore no resemblance to the beribboned doublets, silk breeches and stockings, and slippers fastened with artificial roses that distinguished the pastoral people of poetry and the stage. In outward show, I humbly concede, we looked rather like a gang of beggars, or banditti, than either a company of honest laboring men or a convulsion of philosophers. Whatever might be our points of difference, we all of us seemed to have come to Bithedale with the one thrifty and laudable idea of wearing out our old clothes. Such garments as had an airing whenever we strode afield! Coats with high collars and with no collars; broad-skirted or swallow-tailed, and with the waist at every point between the hip and armpit; pantaloons of a dozen successive epochs, and greatly defaced at the knees by the humiliations of the wearer before his lady-love; in short, we were a living epitome of defunct fashions, and the very raggedest presentment of men who had seen better days. It was gentility in tatters. We might have been sworn comrades to Falstaff's ragged regiment. Little skill as we boasted in other points of husbandry, every mother's son of us would have served admirably to stick up for a scarecrow."

Queen's Dreams Faded.

Cecily, duchess of York, who lived toward the end of the sixteenth century, was doomed to witness in her family more appalling calamities than probably are found in the history of any other individual. Twenty-five of her closest relatives, through whom she hoped to inherit the throne of England, were killed in battle, poisoned or murdered during her lifetime. Her father was that rash and powerful nobleman, Ralph Neville, earl of Westmoreland. She was the youngest of twenty-one children, and on becoming the wife of Richard Plantagenet, duke of York, her family exerted all their influence to place her on the throne of England. After a series of splendid achievements, unparalleled in history, the whole family of Nevilles was swept away long before Cecily had descended in sorrow to her grave.

What Is a Creole?

Originally the word was used to denote persons born in the West Indies of Spanish parents to distinguish them from immigrants direct from Spain, aboriginals, negroes or mulattos. It is now used for the descendants of non-aboriginal races born and settled in the West Indies, in various parts of the American mainland and in Mauritius, Reunion or some other places colonized by Spain, Portugal, France or (in the case of the West Indies) by England. The use of the word by some writers as necessarily implying a person of mixed blood is entirely erroneous. In itself "creole" may be a person of European, negro or mixed extraction, or even a horse, French Canadians are never Creoles. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Opals and Pearls.

We suppose that those people who call pearls "tears" do so because both are globular and limpid. It is suggested by resemblance. The ancients believed that pearls are formed of drops of dew that fall into the shells of the oysters at night. If the dew was pure the pearls would be beautiful and clear; if impure, they would be dull and muddy. We do not find that the opal is considered unlucky. In mottoes made of the first letter of gems it is used to spell "good luck." It is also used to spell the word "hope."
